

Randy Pippin

Retired Head Coach

Randy Pippin Directs the Glazier/Mega Football Coaching Clinics nationally after a 23 year coaching career, 13 as a successful Head Coach. Most recently he held the head coaching position of the Northwest Mississippi CC football program in 2007. Pippin led the Rangers to the MACJC north division championship in 2006, including a perfect 6-0 mark inside the division. Pippin came to Northwest from Cottage Hill Baptist School System in Mobile, Ala., where he was Dean of Students and Athletic Director in 2004. Under Pippin's direction, the school initiated and completed numerous major projects including a new football stadium while winning state championships in basketball and cross country. As head coach at the University of West Alabama from 2001 through 2003, Pippin was recognized as the Small College Coach of the Year in Alabama in 2002 by The Birmingham News leading the team to the most wins in 10 years. Pippin coached numerous All-Gulf South Conference players in his three-year stint at the NCAA D-II University as well as two All Americans. Before going to West Alabama, Pippin was the Athletic Director and Head Football Coach at Middle Georgia College from 1998 through 2000 where he produced two 10-win seasons and 2-Bowl champions. One of his players, Kendrell Bell, went on to become the NFL defensive rookie of the year. Prior to his stint at Middle Georgia, he was the offensive coordinator at Tennessee Tech University for 1996 and 1997 where he coached the school's all-time leader in total offense at the time. Pippin also initiated Fellowship of Christian Athlete's Huddles at each institution that he coached. One of his most successful runs came as head coach at Trinity Valley Community College in Texas from 1993 through 1995. During his three years at the helm at Trinity Valley, Pippin led the Cardinals to a record of 24-8-2 and

Pippin's Coaching Highlights

A Published Author and Speaker for The American Football Coaches Association (AFCA), Nike Coach of the Year Clinic and Glazier Mega Clinics. Pippin has Implemented Character Education Programs as a Head Coach at NCAA, NJCAA and High School programs throughout the South. He holds a junior college coaching record of 60-25-2 and has led 3 different Jucos to Championships. He holds a perfect 4 and 0 bowl record. Pippin has recruited and coached numerous great players and helped them obtain their dreams of progressing to successful careers at major universities and professional franchises. Named NJCAA National Coach of the Year in 1994 by the AFCA when his 12-0 Trinity Valley team won both the NJCAA and JC Grid-Wire National Championship coached 19 All-Conference players and six All-Americans. One of which, Matt Bryant (Tampa Bay), has led the NFL in scoring and one, Al Harris (Green Bay), was a 2007 Pro Bowler. Pippin's 1994 squad finished with a perfect record of 12-0 and maintained its No. 1 national ranking for the entire season. That season, Pippin was named NJCAA Coach of the Year for leading Trinity Valley to the NJCAA National Championship. Pippin served as defensive coordinator for three years from 1990 through 1993 at Trinity Valley before moving up to head coach. Pippin's first coaching stints came as an assistant at Middle Tennessee State University for 1988 through the OVC Championship in 1989, and as a student and graduate assistant coach at Tennessee Tech from 1985 through 1987. After graduating from North Mesquite High School in Texas in 1981, Pippin was a standout running back at Cisco Junior College and Tennessee Tech University, where he earned his bachelor's and master's degrees. Pippin speaks nationally on "Implementing Character Qualities for Success" and "How to be Happy". He is married to the former Sally Horton of Cookeville, Tennessee. They have three daughters—Natalie, Holly and Libby.